Overview

This article provides a few examples of mock events where you can take the source code (description code) and utilize it as a starting point for styling your events. There's also a section near the bottom which details each part of the event page that can be styled using inline html/CSS.

 Tip: To quickly view what an event looks like OR to view your entire event calendar in a web browser click the [View Directory] or [View Page] buttons at the top of your event record in Trail Blazer:

The screenshot shows the TrailBlazer software interface. At the top, there are two buttons: "View Directory" and "View Page", both of which are highlighted with a red rectangular box. Below these buttons, the "Event" settings panel is visible, showing details for "Celebrity Golf Event 2020 | 4 PM (CT) - 10:00 PM (CT) [28]". The "Published Event Description" panel on the right contains the following CSS code:

<head>
<style>
body {
background-color: black;
background-image:url
1920x1440.jpg");
vertical-align:middle;
background-repeat: space;
text:white;}

#event-top-banner h1{

Below the event settings, there are several tabs: "Sales", "Summary", "Gallery", and "Setup". Under the "Setup" tab, there are sub-tabs for "Address", "Contact", "Products", "Promos", "Web Customization", "Logo / Banner", "Financial", and "Legacy Settings". The "Products" sub-tab is active, showing a "Merchandise" and "Tickets" section. The "Tickets" section has a toolbar with "New", "Refresh", "Include", "Exclude", "Sort", "Format", "Export", and "Print" buttons. Below the toolbar, a table titled "Ticket Types [1 records found]" displays the following data:

Incl	Description	Sequence	Capacity	Quantity Purchased	Quantity Available	Max Order Quantity	Unit Price
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Pass	1	250	0	250	4	250.00
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>		1	250	0	250

Steps to Style your Event

Take the source code from the examples below and paste it into the Description box of your event between two `<style>` tags, click [Save] once finished, and then refresh your event page:

Paste in source code for the event here.

<head>
<style>
background-color: black;
background-image:url
vertical-align:middle;
background-repeat: space;

Below the settings, there are tabs for 'Sales', 'Summary', 'Gallery', and 'Setup'. Under 'Setup', there are sub-tabs for 'Address', 'Contact', 'Products', 'Promos', 'Web Customization', 'Logo / Banner', 'Financial', and 'Legacy Settings'. The 'Tickets' sub-tab is active, showing a table of ticket types.

<input type="checkbox"/>		1	250	0	250
